

The Gate

THE GATE
Wingate College
Wingate, NC
1981

One of the "lovely" Miss Gate contestants models her (?) evening gown in the annual womanless pageant.

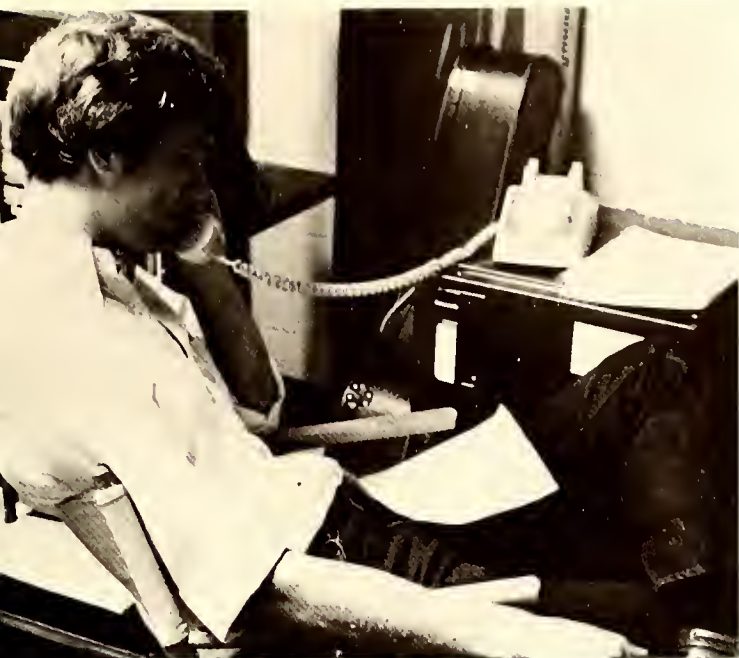

Tim Hamby demonstrates one of the studious skills that made him a student respected by all.

These Outing Club members talk about their short summer vacation.

Greg Jones recruits many members for this year's "Triangle" staff.

Girls intramural football members receive plays for a victory from their coach.

Welcoming activities give many students a lot to smile about.

Several Freshmen had to learn it's much easier to walk to class.

- 1) Students in psychology learn what makes a person tick.
- 2) You wouldn't be cheating, would you!
- 3) Wingate provides many activities for students with musical interests and talents.

Life at Wingate College proves to be fun for some students; others tend to spend hours on every decision. Susan Stiles just quits and says, "I'm over it!"

One student pauses to wonder what college life is all about at Wingate.

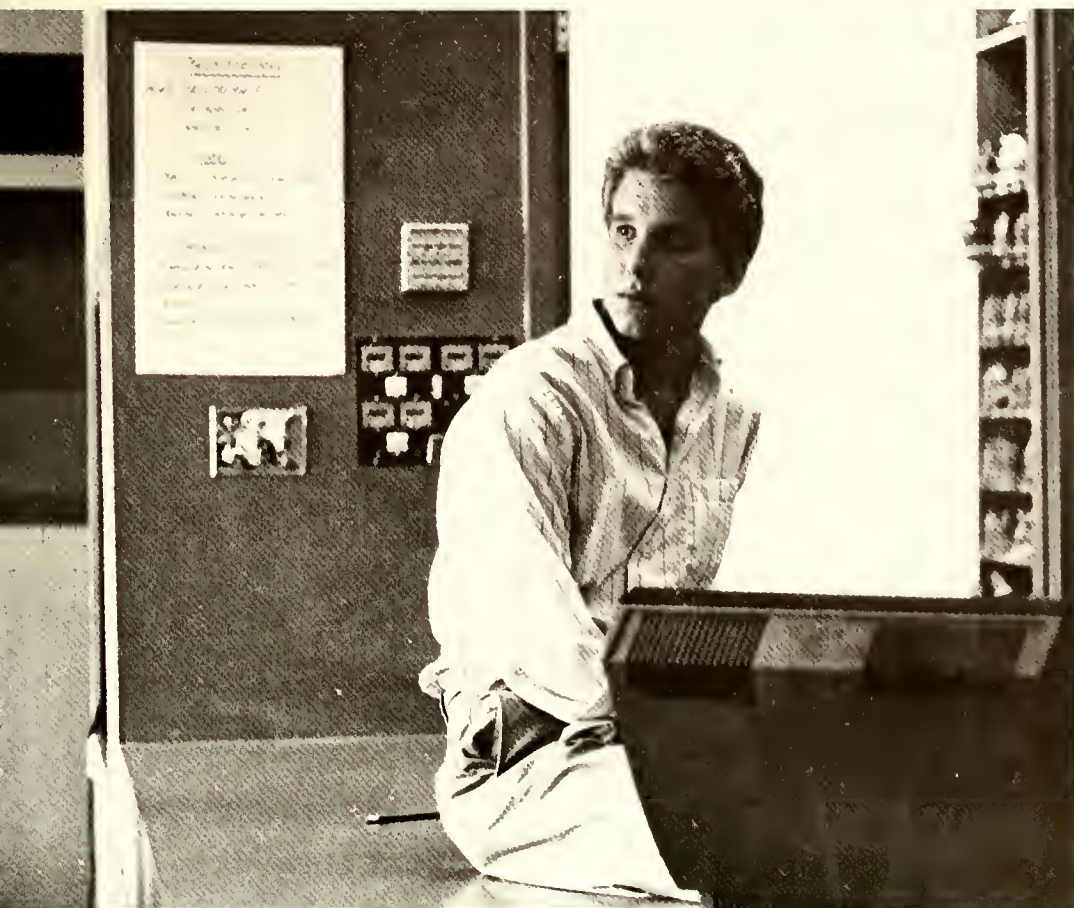

It is amazing what college students can do with a ball of string.

With long lines in the cafeteria, many students waited outside before attempting to eat.

The controversial chatter these days seem to consist of the life and times of soap operas.

- 1) These men take a break from week-end activities.
- 2) The egg toss can prove to be a "shattering" experience.
- 3) Chuck Hollis oversees many activities in the Recreation area.

Leisure time provides relief from frustrations.

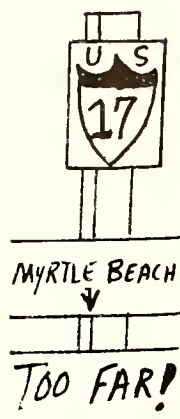

From the slums to the rec, students can always find somewhere to go other than class.

Some use their time wisely; others just dream, Dream,
DREAM.

- 1) Club Night proved to be a success in getting students involved in organizations.
- 2) Soccer was added to the athletic program this year.
- 3) Term papers and research start early!
- 4) Rocky Miller shows his golfing techniques.
- 5) Students relax in the student center before classes start.

Some students don't plan ahead any further than getting to class on time — but some go on and pick out THE RING.

- 1) Students discuss lesson plans before entering the library.
- 2) These students make weekend plans.
- 3) Bennet C. Hall finds time to laugh through it all.
- 4) Finding privacy is a difficult task.
- 5) Herman and Lisa discuss plans for this year's GATE.

An over-crowded cafeteria forced some to munch out on the grass.

Teamwork doesn't work for everyone — some choose to go it alone.

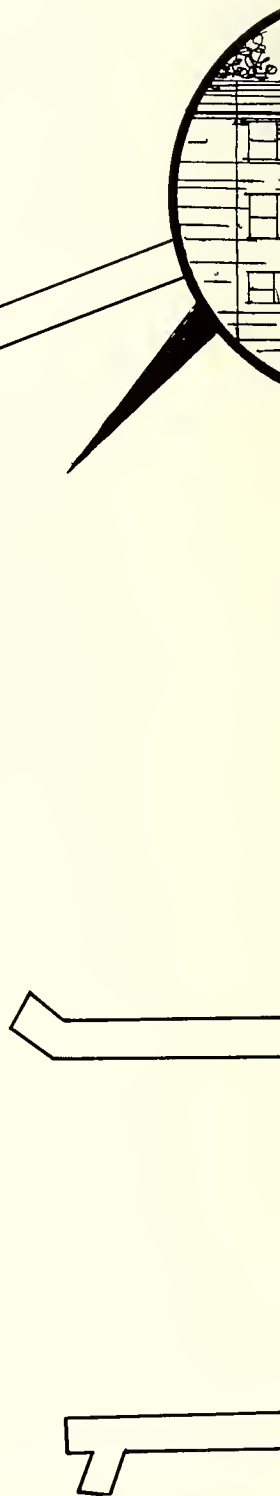

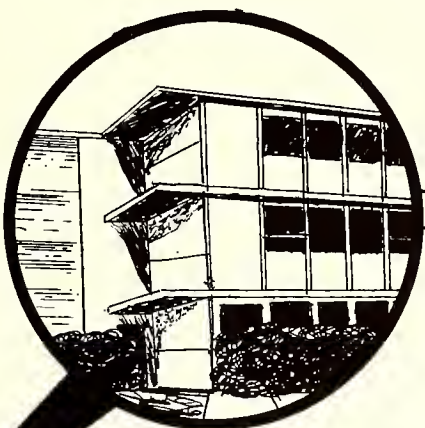

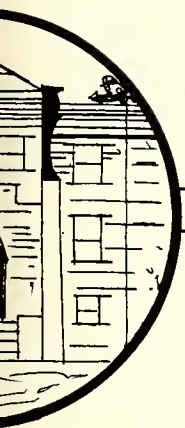

- 1) Taking notes and listening at the same time proves to be difficult.
- 2) MA's train to serve the community.
- 3) Human Services majors study to serve their fellow man.
- 4) Group studying is an alternative to relying on one's own notes.

Extracurricular activities are necessary to keep college students from going "book crazy!"

A WITNESS TO CHRISTIAN FAITH

Timothy Elvin Hamby
September 13, 1959 — October 11, 1980

We dedicate the Senior section to a fellow student, Tim Hamby, who has gone to be with the Lord. Tim was loved by many, and he will be greatly missed by the students at Wingate College.

This is the day that the Lord has made; my happiness does not depend on how others see me, but on how GOD sees me. He sees me in a non-judgemental way and accepts me just the way I am, right now at this very moment. Thus, I will rejoice and be glad in it, because this is the day that the Lord hath made.

By: Tim Hamby

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

Matthew 5:16

Organ Dedication

Wingate College is constantly receiving gifts and endowments from those who want to see the college fulfill its designated purpose; a quality education.

Recently, Wingate was the recipient of a gift that stands out from all the rest — The Rivers Organ.

The organ was donated by Miss Thelma Rivers.

The distinctive Holtkamp Organ completed installation in September, 1980. The official dedication was held November 14, 1980.

The electropneumatic organ was designed especially for Austin Auditorium, which was extensively renovated and acoustically prepared to house the instrument.

The college and community, and all those who hear the organ, praise Miss Rivers for her generous contribution, and realize that her love for mankind, as the music from the organ, will touch the hearts of future and present generations.

Fall Festival 1980

When students return to campus in the fall, they are always anxious to see friends they have not seen in three months. There is no better way to reminisce summer activities than with a day filled with fun and frolic.

Wingate's Fall Festival is designed by the APB and takes place the first Saturday students are back on campus.

This year the temperature was very high, as were student's spirits as they participated in the egg toss, relay races, volleyball games, and various games that brought smiles to all.

The cafeteria participated by serving a picnic lunch which involved all students as well as faculty.

MISS GATE 1980

The Miss Gate pageant, this year sponsored by the Sophomore Class, may have caused some students to do a re-take on what they were seeing. The lovely contestants they saw on stage were actually men.

This year's Miss Gate pageant played host to lively and wonderfully talented beauties vying for the crown.

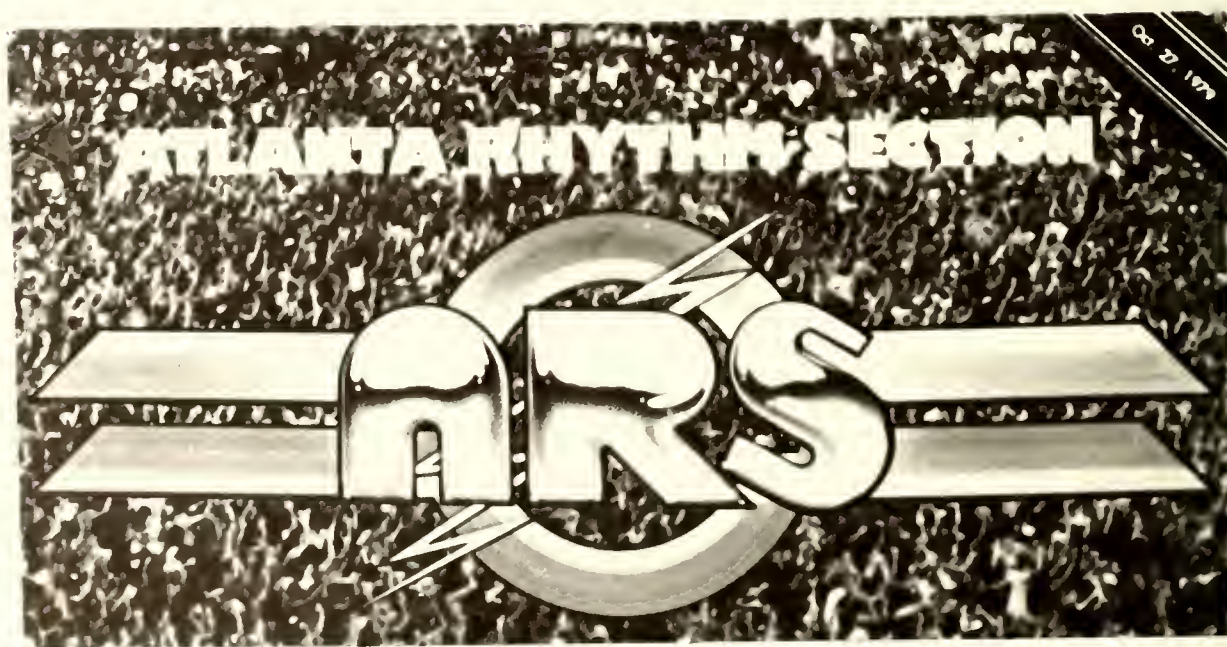

Talents ranged from a cheerleader routine to the Mickey Mouse theme played on a tuba. Students were also lucky enough to get a rare glimpse of a graceful ballerina.

After the three finalists were chosen and asked a difficult question, the judges decided that Miss Marvinia Tyson held the poise, talent, and charms that would best represent Wingate College.

MARK TWAIN COMES TO WINGATE

"For your race, in its poverty, has unquestionably one really effective weapon — laughter . . . Against the assault of laughter nothing can stand."

These words of Samuel Clemens proved to be true when Roger Durrett presented "An Evening With Mark Twain" in Austin Auditorium.

The near capacity crowd witnessed Durrett's interpretation of selections from many of Twain's better known works.

Durrett performed amongst a set that gave the audience a personal relationship with Twain's character. His presence on stage was as if Mark Twain had actually come to give a last lecture, and left his audience with a smile and a warm feeling for the human race.

The performance, which lasted two hours, captured the student's attention and senses of humor. Durrett successfully projected Twain's humor and love for making his fellow man laugh at his own mistakes.

Madrigal Dinner

Friday, the fifth day of December, 1980
 Banquet Hall of the Lord of the Manor five o'clock and seven o'clock in the evening

Wingate College
 Wingate, North Carolina

Christmas always brings a hint of magic to the atmosphere. Decorations, carols, good spirits, laughter, and pageantry fill the air. This is no exception at Wingate College.

For the past three years the college has successfully held its Madrigal Dinner in the W.T. Harris cafeteria.

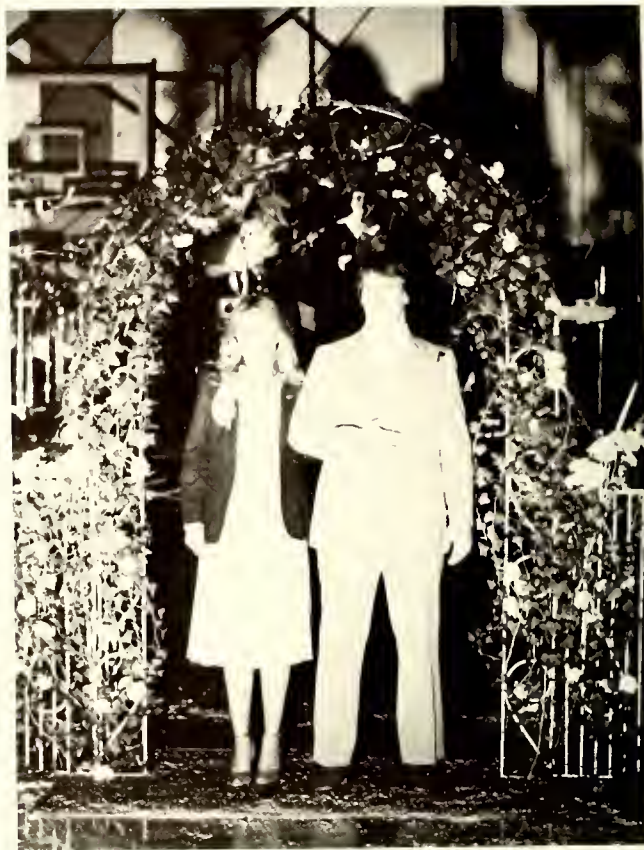

Students enter in formal attire to a lavishly decorated environment where they enjoy an old-fashioned medieval dinner.

This year faculty member Doss Phillips served as Lord of the Manor, while Sheree Tarte and Lisa Pate served as Ladies of the Manor.

After his formal Christmas toast, Dr. Phillips called for the dinner to be served, and students enjoyed magic acts, fencing bouts, and carolers while students ate.

The Madrigal Dinner and the Christmas Dance, which is held afterwards, is an excellent way of putting students in the Christmas spirit, and wishing a joyous holiday to all.

Winternational

Winternational 1980 was a terrific learning experience. Each student that participated in this year's program was able to go places and do things that they otherwise would never have gotten the chance to do.

Each Winternational group studied a specific curriculum concerning London and the history of England. A few of the groups went to Paris and Amsterdam, but they returned to London and did further sightseeing there.

The students were very appreciative for the opportunity to see a different country; one filled with history, beauty, and lots of fun.

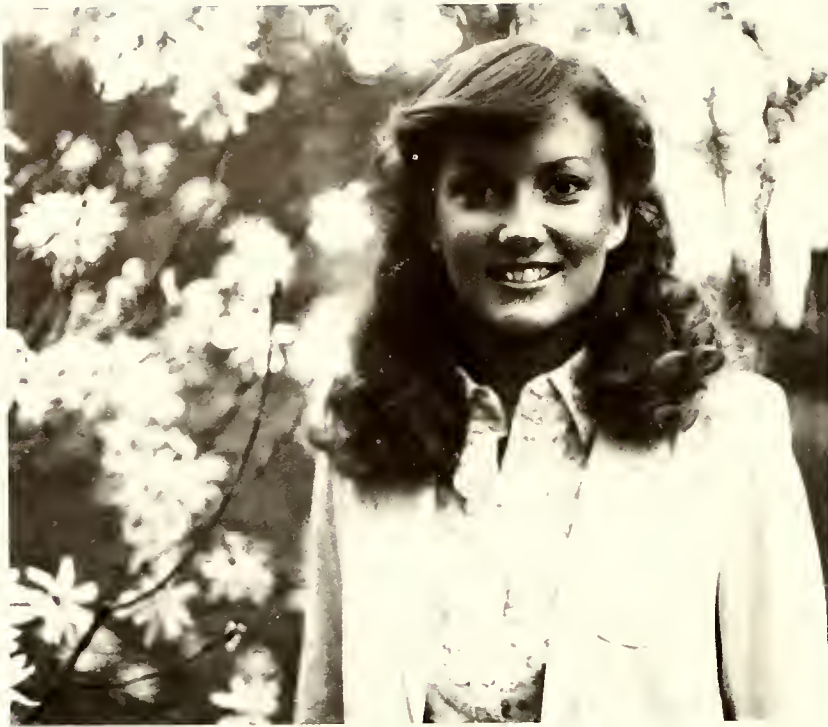

The Winternational program was established in 1978. Every year since then, sophomores who elect to take the Winternational course and have a Q.P. of a 2.0 or higher leave over Christmas break and spend two weeks in England. The trip is expense free for students and gives them an opportunity to learn of different cultures and histories.

This year's trip started on a bad note with students waiting fourteen hours in Charlotte's Douglas Airport for their planes to arrive. Although there was a delay, students had a memorable experience in London. The long wait was due to bad weather, which caused the planes a long delay in departing for Charlotte.

CLUB NIGHT

Many students enjoy extra-curricular activities, and Wingate offers a wide selection for students.

The first Thursday in the fall semester all clubs gather in the Dickson-Palmer Center to advertise their benefits to all students.

Students wander from table to table to see what interests them the most. Usually, students sign a membership sheet and are then notified of an organizational meeting of the clubs they have shown an interest in.

In some instances, such as The Gate and The Triangle, students must fill out an application listing previous experience and reasons for applying.

This year's club night was an overwhelming success as students packed the student center eager to join and participate in their favorite clubs.

Long lines, anticipation, frustration, and disappointment are all ingredients to registration.

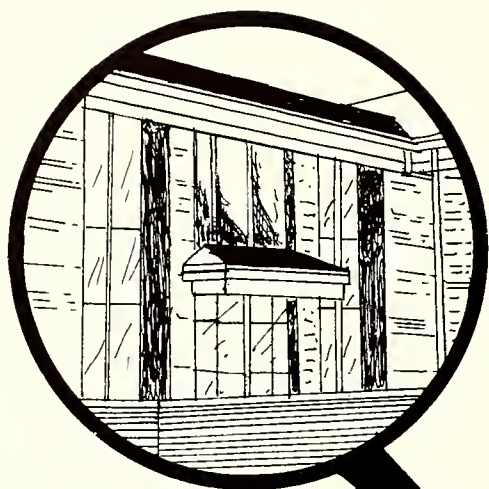

The freshmen tend to be the victims as they have to learn the procedure for registration. They wait, and wait, and wait for their time to rush from table to table to collect computer stickers. Hopefully, upper classmen have not filled classes that they need, but if that is the case the dreaded words, "Sorry, this class is closed", are heard all too often.

Upperclassmen pre-register in the spring for fall classes. However, some return to discover that classes have been deleted, and students are required to attend drop-add.

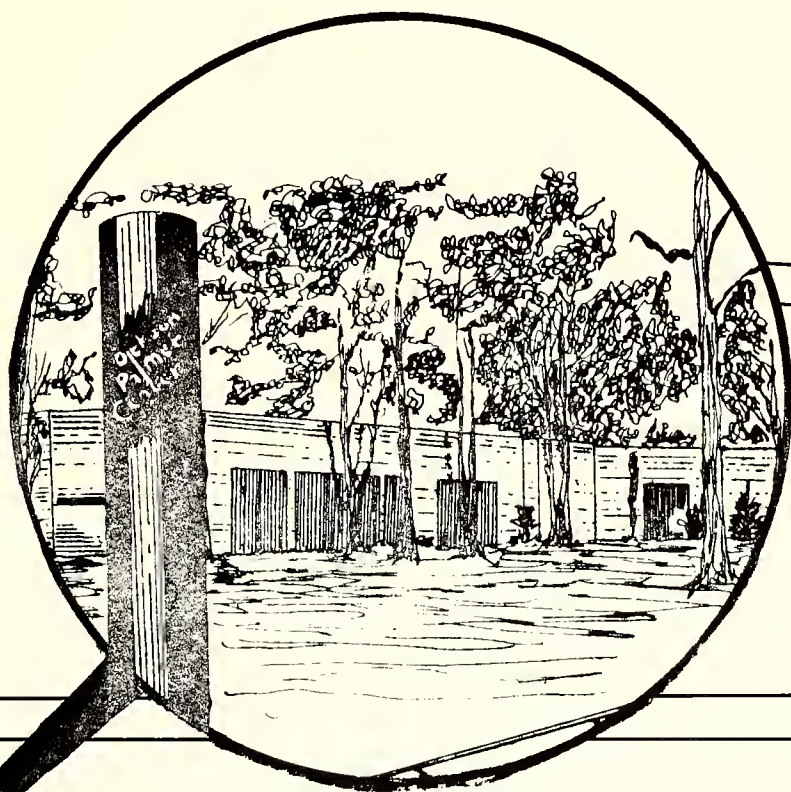

What seems to be a simple procedure can often turn into a disaster. Thank goodness it only occurs twice a year!

Wingate's Coaches

Coach Jerry Sutton

A new addition to Wingate sports this season is soccer. The bulldogs suffered a disappointing seasonal record of 0 wins and 10 losses. Coach Jerry Sutton commented on the first teams season, "Although we suffered a 0-10 season, we were able to build a team of strong character." Sutton went on to say, "I told the team members that this first year was a learning season and that their first requirement was to have a good time and enjoy the sport.

The team showed it's character by showing up to every practice and giving 100% in all ten games.

Next years team will be, "Very, very successful", said coach Jerry Sutton. The team will be returning 12 players and is recruiting many excellent high school players. The team will be spending hours practicing and preparing for the up-coming season in April.

Bulldogs warming up

When asked, "How do you expect the 1980 1981 Wingate Baseball team to do this season," Coach Ron Christopher quickly replied "I expect this year's team to be very, very, very good. Most likely to be the top team of this area." Christopher went on to say, "We finished third last year in the Carolina Conference with an 18 win and 18 loss record. With many of those losses one run losses."

Wingate will have the experience of many upper classmen on the team plus the help of four returning all conference players. These players are Scott Smith, Jim Morris, Pat Warren, and Jeff Tuttle.

Wingate is indeed grateful for the inspirational, devoted leadership of our President, Dr. Thomas E. Corts. His enthusiasm and openness among both the students and the faculty create a friendly atmosphere in which to grow and mature.

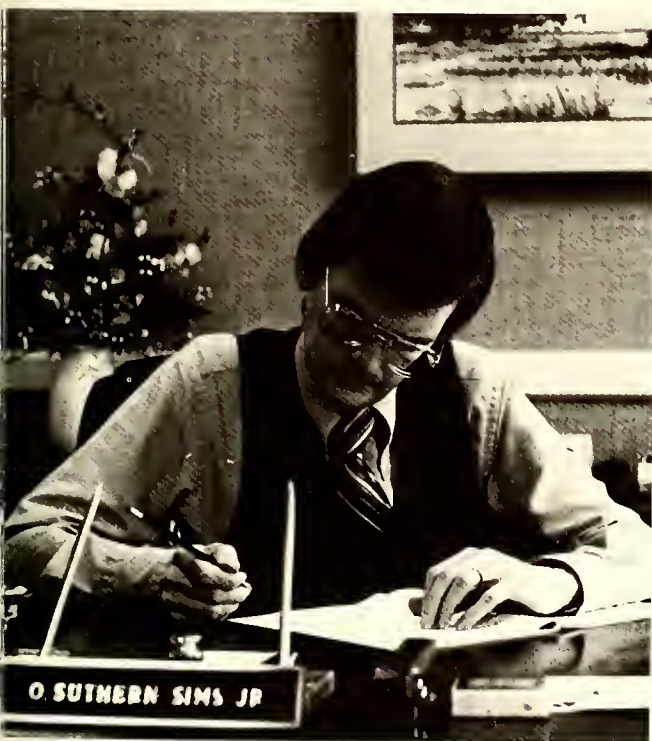

Dr. Thomas E. Corts
President of the College

Wingate College is a special place. It is special because of the people who live, work, study, teach, pray, and learn here. It is special because of what happens in the lives of those who commit themselves to the purposes of this community. Indeed, it is a special place because every person here contributes to the vitality of Wingate College.

IN MEMORIAM

KATHLEEN JACKSON
[1919 - 1980]

For her many years of loyal service to Wingate College, the Gate would like to dedicate this space to Miss Kathleen Jackson.

Miss Jackson was respected by all her students for her ability to teach the English language, while being a friend at the same time.

One of her greatest contributions was helping the international students learn to adjust to American life.

Kathleen Jackson was a leader with a warm heart and an endless desire to share her knowledge.

"And gladly would she learn, and gladly teach."

Chaucer

In Memoriam

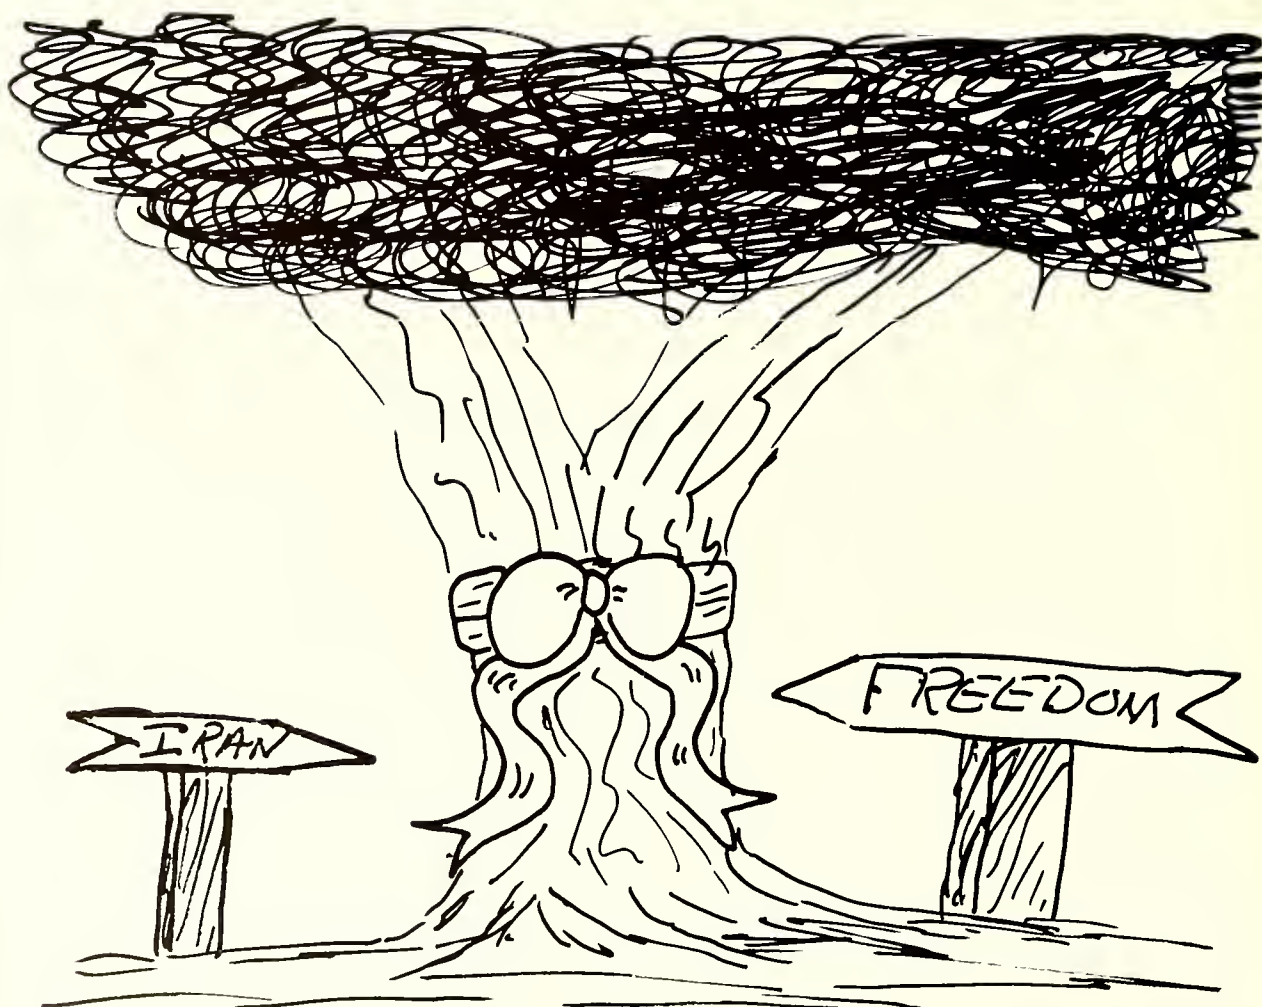

The Gate Staff and the entire student body would like to remember Kevin Hufstetler at this time. Kevin, a sophomore, was killed in a car accident on February 6, 1981. A special person with a deep faith in God and a zest for life, he will remain in our hearts forever. We must not grieve over his death, but instead be thankful for having known him. Kevin's death has taught us a very valuable lesson. It has taught us to cherish life, for it can end very suddenly. Kevin enriched each person's life he knew. We will never forget him or his special kind of love.

Kevin David Hufstetler
1961-1981

WORLD ISSUES 1980-1981

1. The Ayatollah and Iran became important in the American news.
2. Ronald Reagan became President in 1981 in the month of January.
3. Ted Kennedy announced his candidacy for president only to withdraw it as the race came to an end.
4. The yellow ribbon — a sign of welcome and freedom.
5. George Brett batted .390 in 1980, the best in baseball since Ted Williams batted over .400 a couple of decades ago.
6. The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Kansas City Royals four games to two in the 1980 World Series.
7. Roger Staubach, Dallas quarterback from 1967-1979, retired before the 1980 season.
8. The Oakland Raiders defeated the Philadelphia Eagles 27-10 in the 1981 Super Bowl XV.

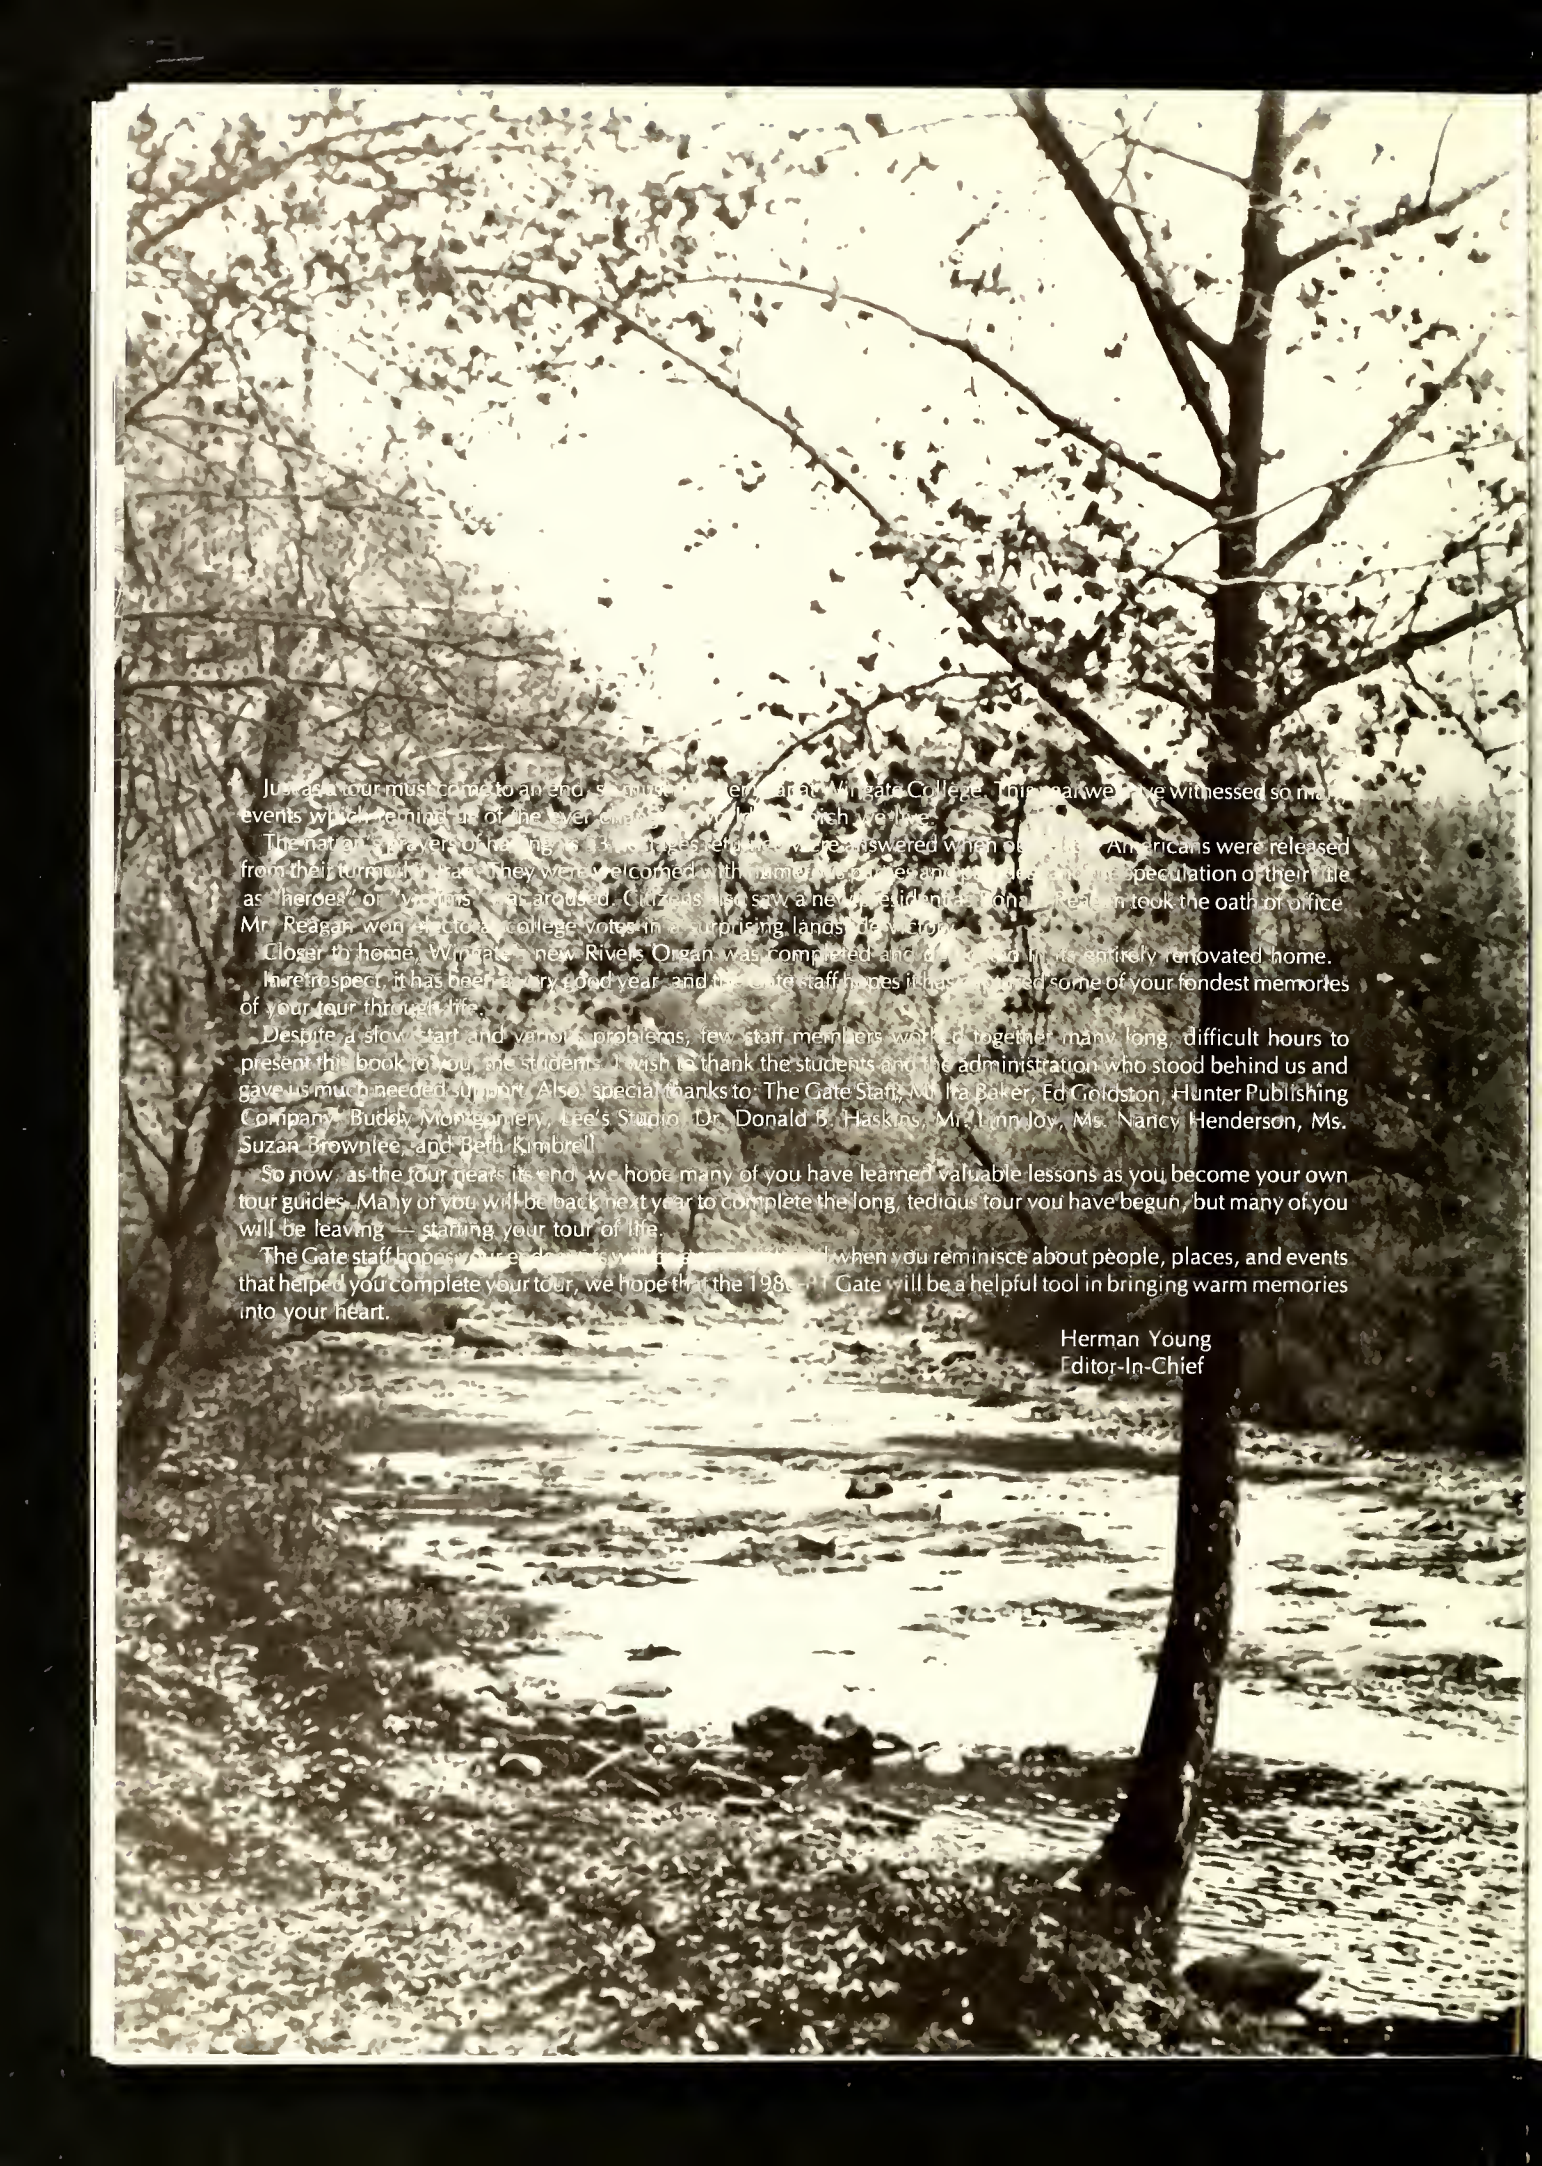

1980-1981

Just as a tour must come to an end, so must this year at Winthrop College. This year we have witnessed so many events which remind us of the ever-changing life which we live.

The nation's prayers of healing 13,000 roses returned were answered when 50,000 Americans were released from their turbulent years. They were welcomed with names, faces, and hopes, and the speculation of their life as "heroes" or "victims" was aroused. Citizens also saw a new, confident Ronald Reagan took the oath of office. Mr. Reagan won electoral college votes in a surprising landslide victory.

Closer to home, Winthrop's new Rivers Organ was completed and dedicated in its entirely renovated home. In retrospect, it has been a very good year, and the Gate staff hopes it has provided some of your fondest memories of your tour through life.

Despite a slow start and various problems, few staff members worked together many long, difficult hours to present this book to you, the students. I wish to thank the students and the administration who stood behind us and gave us much needed support. Also, special thanks to: The Gate Staff, Mr. Ira Baker, Ed Goldston, Hunter Publishing Company, Buddy Montgomery, Lee's Studio, Dr. Donald B. Haskins, Mr. Lynn Joy, Ms. Nancy Henderson, Ms. Suzan Brownlee, and Beth Kimbrell.

So now, as the tour nears its end, we hope many of you have learned valuable lessons as you become your own tour guides. Many of you will be back next year to complete the long, tedious tour you have begun, but many of you will be leaving — starting your tour of life.

The Gate staff hopes your memories will be as clear as the water in the river when you reminisce about people, places, and events that helped you complete your tour. We hope that the 1980-81 Gate will be a helpful tool in bringing warm memories into your heart.
